

From the President

Dear TMLG Members:

It is difficult to believe that the summer has flown by so quickly. We are ready to start a new year and TMLG has a busy and I hope interesting programme ahead.

Our Newsletter has a bright new face thanks to the success of last year's logo contest. Our congratulations to the winners: Verla Empey, 1st prize, Susan Murray, 2nd prize, and Joan Hunt, 3rd prize. Elizabeth Stacey, medical artist at the Toronto Western Hospital, designed the page layout to help us fit in all the necessary words and still show Verla's beautiful design to full advantage. Thank-you Elizabeth for your voluntary contribution.

The TMLG News will be issued approximately three weeks before our meetings. If you have any announcements or notes you feel would be of general interest to TMLG members please submit them to Susan Murray, TMLG Secretary. It would be nice to see this publication become not only a means of announcing association news but a forum for exchanging information of interest to all members.

The Union List Task Force is gearing up again after the summer and we hope that by the end of the year our elusive list will become a reality. A full report on its progress will be given at the first meeting. I want to take this opportunity on everyone's behalf to thank the members of the Task Force and the Union List Committee for the work they have done so far. Compiling a Union List is a monumental task and it is vital that we design the production of the list so that it can be easily and regularly updated with a minimum of cost.

Our first meeting is being held at the Forensic Science Centre where we will learn from librarian Eva Gulbinowicz just how the library supports the 'Quincy's' of Toronto. Robin Laperriere of the Overseas Book Centre will also attend the meeting to fill us in on the programmes they run to supply books and journals to third world countries. We all have space problems and from what I have learned so far the Overseas Book Centre will eagerly accept our weeded material. It should prove to be an interesting evening and I look forward to seeing everyone there.

Sincerely,

Carol Morrison.

SENTENCES WE HATED TO COME TO THE END OF

[From Psychiatric News, a publication of the American Psychiatric Association]

"In both these cases, the patient at best is limitedly capable of making that kind of intercommunicatively trustful and basically realistic alliance to the therapist—which is a sine qua non for the achievement of a therapeutic split between the self as observer, with a sense of objectivity and judgment in alliance with the therapist as therapist—and the self, subjectively in vital and possibly corrective recapitulation of past events and development through transference to the therapist as object—as if the therapist were an object out of the past, but experienced in the here and now," explained Valenstein.
